3 Investment criteria

Filled out prospectively. Two parts: (1) the Strategic Fit gate, explained with a clear statement of why it is a yes, and (2) the 0/1/2 scoring of the five remaining criteria. The total is out of 10.

1 · Strategic fit (gate)

Criterion	Guiding question	Answer: a clear statement of why yes
Strategic fit	How does the initiative fit within the area's investment thesis?

2 · Scored criteria (0 / 1 / 2)

Criterion	Guiding question	0	1	2	Score
Solution strength	Does the initiative have a well-articulated theory of change or business model, and evidence of effectiveness appropriate to its current stage?	No clear theory of change / business model, or no evidence appropriate to the stage is available or reasonably attainable before the decision.	Theory of change / business model is articulated but incomplete, or the evidence appropriate to the stage is plausible but not yet validated.	Clear and well articulated, with evidence (or a credible near-term plan to generate it) appropriate to the stage.	-
Team strength	Does the organization have the team quality and a realistic plan to implement the initiative within the proposed timeframe?	Team lacks the capacity or experience needed, or no credible implementation plan / timeline exists.	Team has partial capacity, or the plan has gaps in timing, resourcing or key roles.	Demonstrated capacity and a credible, realistic plan and timeline.	-
Additionality	To what extent would ver+'s funding and support provide additionality for the organization or individual in developing the initiative?	The initiative would likely proceed at similar scale, quality and speed without ver+.	ver+'s support would meaningfully improve scale, quality, speed or learning, though the initiative could largely proceed without it.	ver+'s support is expected to enable work, ambition or results unlikely to happen otherwise.	-
Impact potential	What is the expected impact and return on investment of the initiative?	Expected impact is unclear, marginal, or not commensurate with the size of the investment.	Plausible and reasonably sized relative to the investment, but not clearly differentiated or high-leverage.	Well-articulated, significant, and a strong return relative to the size of the investment.	-
Scale potential	Does the organization have the governance and operational capacity to scale, and what is the expected growth in outreach over the medium and long term?	No credible path to scale; governance / operational capacity for growth is absent or unproven.	A plausible path to scale exists, but important governance, funding, partnership or delivery gaps remain.	A credible national or regional path to scale, supported by governance, operating capacity, and partners or funding already in motion.	-
TOTAL				Out of 10
